

TV Ads or the Internet?

At RE/MAX, You Get Both!

In today's real estate market, you deserve all the support you can get.

That means strong traditional advertising and an effective, meaningful Web presence.

Now isn't the time to risk choosing one or the other. That's why RE/MAX gives you both.

RE/MAX dominates the industry in national TV Share of Voice and radio spending, reaching more consumers than any of our competitors. That builds brand awareness that translates into consumer confidence.

It also drives traffic to one of the Internet's most visited real estate sites, remax.com, which in turn delivers millions of leads to RE/MAX offices and agents – without a referral fee.

Can your company say as much?

If you're not getting every ounce of support you need to succeed, it's time to make a change.

Nobody sells more real estate than RE/MAX.
